

WCMC

Programme Officer - Nature Economy
Application Pack

ABOUT WCMC

WCMC (World Conservation Monitoring Centre) is a global centre of excellence on biodiversity and nature's contribution to society and the economy.

We work at the interface of science, policy, and practice to tackle the global crisis facing nature and support the transition to a sustainable future for people and the planet.

Our cutting-edge science, data and insights inform policy and business decisions worldwide.

Achieving the vision of a world living in harmony with nature by 2050 will require transformative and systemic change across all sectors. We bring together and support governments, businesses, research bodies, and more to put nature at the heart of decision-making.

"We are entering a make or break decade for nature with WCMC set to play a pivotal role in ensuring humanity finally begins to reverse the catastrophic loss of biodiversity globally."

Jonny Hughes, CEO of WCMC

Thank you for your interest in the role of Programme Officer within the Nature Economy team at UNEP-WCMC

We are seeking a Programme Officer to join our growing Nature Economy team, working at the junction between biodiversity and the economy.

This role responds to the need for greater understanding of the embodied impacts of trade and the associated supply chain risks. It will provide you with the opportunity to work on high impact projects, and support action by companies, governments and the finance community to address the impacts and dependencies of commodity supply chains on nature. You will be a capable project manager, able to work flexibly in response to developments in this fast-moving field and with a demonstrated ability to deliver high quality outputs. A clear and compelling communicator, you will be comfortable engaging with a range of audiences and stakeholders.

ABOUT THE TEAM

The Nature Economy team plays a central role in high profile collaborations which are at the leading edge of efforts to deliver a nature positive global economy. This includes: delivering ENCORE, the world's first tool to support exploration of natural capital-related risk for the finance sector; The Proteus Partnership, our flagship initiative which engages leading members of the private sector; our collaboration in the Science-based Targets Network and Taskforce on Nature-related Financial Disclosures; support to the upcoming post-2020 global biodiversity framework under the UN Convention on Biological Diversity; work to align biodiversity measurement approaches for businesses; input to the UK Treasury Dasgupta Review; support to the development of the UN System of Environmental Economic Accounting; and globally regarded research into the embedded biodiversity impact of trade flows.

We work as one organisation. So while our projects, partnerships and collaborations form the basis of the Nature Economy team's focal initiatives, they are delivered across the whole Centre.

ABOUT THE ROLE

Job Description

One of the impact areas in UNEP-WCMC's strategy is Nature Economy, where we aim to strengthen consideration of the value of natural capital in business and financial decision-making.

The main purpose of this role is to support both public and private sector action on biodiversity, with a focus on commodity trade and supply chains. The role will involve working on and leading projects that drive impact through improved access to research and scientific outputs. The role will involve:

- Strategic input to projects to ensure that they drive impact
- Developing and delivering external communication strategy
- Coordination and oversight of project activities and deliverables
- Technical input into research and synthesis related to commodity trade and supply chains
- Stakeholder engagement and capacity building in both the public and private sectors and the scientific community.
- Building partnerships with key institutions and initiatives to extend the impact of our work and form effective collaborations
- Supporting development of new projects, tools and outputs through understanding needs and opportunities to influence behaviour

Key Areas of Responsibility

- Manage projects from inception through to completion to time and to budget, with effective internal and external communication, financial management and reporting, delegating task-level coordination and management as appropriate.
- Coordinating the inputs of project teams, including liaising with senior colleagues and partners and supervising peers, interns, students, volunteers and consultants as necessary.
- Ensuring that projects have and implement clear communication strategies with effective communication materials and modalities.
- Organise and facilitate workshops, consultations with partners, and other events in the UK, overseas and remotely.
- Provide technical leadership on projects that support the business and financial sectors integrate biodiversity and other environmental and social considerations into decision making, including contributing to key deliverables and outputs as well as future development opportunities.
- Provide support for the Centre's key partnerships by managing individual relationships
- Support development of new projects and collaborations.

Other Duties

- Promote project work and represent the Centre externally at meetings, conferences and events, building a network to facilitate project delivery.
- Line manage members of the Nature Economy team to continuously develop their technical, project management, and communication abilities.
- Develop good working relations across the Centre, establishing an internal network, and extending your own knowledge of scientific and policy issues relevant to the work of the organisation as a whole.
- Ensure project and other deliverables are of high quality, in line with the Centre's quality assurance process

- Contribute to the operation and administration of the Nature Economy team as required.
- Undertake other duties as appropriate to the grade and relevant to the needs that may be determined from time to time by the Line Manager.

- Internal and external invited speakers, workshops and talks that anyone can join or initiate.

UNEP-WCMC strategy

UNEP-WCMC delivers its strategy through four independent impact areas which are complemented by three cross cutting innovation areas.

VISION 2050

Living in harmony with nature

MISSION

We develop knowledge and capacity for a nature-positive world

The people

We have around 200 amazing people who make up our organisation. We are a really friendly bunch of professionals and do not think a single person has ever left the organisation without saying that it is the people that make the organisation fantastic and how much they will miss them when they leave. We truly do have world class scientists and professionals!

The culture

Our culture is very supportive. There are lots of ups and downs in life, and we want to support our people through the difficult patches, so they can flourish again. We have a free employee assistance line that is available to all employees and their families and offers 6 remote counselling sessions and other advice services.

We have redesigned our kitchen and library to make a fantastic social space where you can have a quiet chat or a loud lunch with your colleagues! We have lots of outdoor space including a wildlife pond, which is a popular area for outdoor meetings and relaxation. We also have tea every Wednesday afternoon, with locally homemade cakes and catch up with everyone and everything that is going on in the Centre.

We are affiliated with Cambridge University, and have rooms in the David Attenborough Building that we can use when we wish. UNEP-WCMC is also a member of the Cambridge Conservation Initiative and we often collaborate with our CCI colleagues in our work.

WCMC attaches great importance to addressing safeguarding and ethical considerations in all activities carried out by its staff, including where partner organisations or individuals are part of the delivery of our work. This includes children and vulnerable adults in the community who may be vulnerable to abuse. WCMC acts with integrity, is transparent and expects applicants to share the same values.

Diversity

We really take our diversity seriously, as we operate globally and need to have the people perspectives within the organisation, to fully understand our clients and partners that we work with. Our aim following the introduction of the points based immigration system was to increase our diversity not only in our range of nationalities, but in all protected characteristics (age, disability, gender reassignment, marriage and civil partnership, pregnancy and maternity, race, religion or belief, sex).

We have a sponsorship licence and always take the best candidate for the role from a whole range of applicants and offer sponsorship to those that require it. We have people that have worked for us for more than 30 years, and our fantastic internships often attract the best and brightest graduates.

HOW TO APPLY

If you are looking for a rewarding and motivating post, we want to hear from you.

Please complete our application form and send it together with your 2 page CV and a short covering letter through this link.

We screen candidates based on skills and experience and not their personal details. Please do not include a photograph on your CV, and note that any applications which include a photograph may be automatically rejected.
